GIRLS IN ICT HACKATHON 2024

The Tanzania Communications Regulatory Authority (TCRA) invites female students enrolled in Tanzanian universities to participate in the upcoming Girls in ICT Hackathon 2024. This competition aims at nurturing innovative ideas and foster leadership in the Information and Communication Technology (ICT) sector, specifically emphasising the theme of "Leadership."

This initiative offers an inclusive platform for participants to actively engage, showcase their skills, and derive fun while cultivating and enhancing their innovative and creative abilities. Additionally, it serves as a gateway for aspiring individuals to cultivate a career in leadership for the ICT sector.

Participation Criteria:

- Be a female student enrolled in a Tanzanian university.
- Possess basic coding skills, such as using Python and R.
- Age: Between 18 and 24 years.
- Digital club membership will be an added advantage.

Interested participants are required to submit their applications online through the following link <https://edodoso.gov.go.tz/index.php/824558?newtest=Y&lang=en>

Deadline for application submissions is 12 March, 2024.

TCRA encourages all eligible female students to utilise this opportunity to showcase their talents, contribute to the innovative landscape, so as to pave the way for future leadership roles in the dynamic field of ICT.
